

Sale Ready Legal Pack explained

FAQs for buyers and their Solicitors

Buy with confidence from the start

When a property is listed as Sale Ready, important information about the home is available upfront in the Sale Ready Pack, including property details, searches and legal documents.

Review key information sooner, so you can better understand the property, make informed decisions and move forward with confidence - with transactions completing up to 4-weeks sooner.*

*From exchange to draft contracts

What is the Sale Ready Pack and what's included?

The Sale Ready Pack contains key legal documents, searches and important property information prepared upfront for buyers to review early in the process.

This helps you better understand the property before committing, while supporting a smoother transaction with fewer delays and surprises later on.

The Sale Ready Pack includes:

Property information forms

The seller completes a set of property information forms that explain important details about the home, helping you better understand the property and what's included in the sale.

Includes:

- + Property Information Questionnaire: TA6, and TA7 for leasehold
- + TA10 fittings and contents form

Title and ownership documents

Official documents confirm ownership of the property and outline important information such as boundaries, rights and restrictions. Includes:

- + Official copy of Title Register
- + Title plan

Property searches

Searches provide important information about the property and surrounding area, helping identify potential issues earlier in the process. Includes:

- + Local Authority search
- + Water and drainage search
- + Environmental search
- + Climate change report

Legal preparation

The seller's Conveyancer prepares key legal documentation early, so the transaction is ready to progress once a buyer is found. Includes:

- + Draft contract prepared
- + Standard Enquiries reviewed

Why Sale Ready?

Sale Ready is designed to make key legal and property information available earlier in the transaction process.

The Sale Ready Pack contains searches, title documents and property information prepared upfront by the seller and their Conveyancer, allowing buyers and solicitors to begin reviewing important information before a sale is agreed.

By preparing this information earlier, Sale Ready helps:

- + reduce delays once an offer is accepted
- + answer standard enquiries sooner
- + minimise duplicated work
- + support a smoother conveyancing process

Searches are ordered when the property is listed for sale and can be transferred to the successful buyer as part of the conveyancing process.

Because legal work has already started, transactions can complete up to 4-weeks sooner* compared to a standard Private Treaty sale.

The Sale Ready Pack aligns with the Home Buying and Selling Group (HBSG) recommendations for providing upfront information during the home moving process.

*From exchange to draft contracts

Why has the vendor chosen Sale Ready?

The vendor has chosen Sale Ready to help speed up the transaction and provide early access to key property information, searches and legal documents – helping you make informed decisions before moving forward.

Frequently Asked Questions

Can your Conveyancer rely on the information provided in the pack?

Regulators have confirmed that your Conveyancer can rely on the seller's searches. They're included in the pack to save time, with no change to the liability of the seller, Conveyancer, Valuer, or Estate Agent.

Sellers are legally required to be accurate and transparent. Under the Misrepresentation Act 1967 they must tell the truth, and under the Consumer Protection from Unfair Trading Regulations (CPRs) anyone marketing the property must disclose material facts that could affect a buyer's decision.

Who provides the searches and are they valid?

The searches are provided by a Search Code Regulated provider, CDS, who will refresh them if they expire before exchange. With 98% of mortgage instructions allowing personal searches, they're accepted by most lenders – and if there are any issues, we'll get them sorted.

Is there any cost for the Sale Ready Pack?

No, the Sale Ready Pack is arranged by the seller and provided as part of the sale to give you key information upfront.

Do I need to get my own searches, or can I use the ones in the Sale Ready Pack?

You can use the searches included in the Sale Ready Pack. They're provided by a regulated Search provider and are widely accepted by Conveyancers and lenders. The searches are prepared upfront to help save time, and if they expire before exchange, they'll be refreshed at no additional cost. This helps keep your purchase moving and reduces the risk of delays.

What if the Sale Ready legal pack is not yet complete?

In some instances, there may be some outstanding documents in the Sale Ready Pack when the offer is placed on the property. When an offer is placed on a property, all outstanding information will follow as soon as available.

Is my offer subject to me agreeing to use Sale Ready?

No. All offers are presented to the seller for their consideration whether you wish to use Sale Ready or not.

If you decide not to use Sale Ready, the seller may take this into account when reviewing your offer, as it can impact the speed and certainty of the sale.

The Sale Ready process

- Vendor instructs the Estate Agent to sell their home.
- The Sale Ready Pack is ordered.
- The property is advertised with clear information about the Sale Ready Pack and what's included.
- Sale Ready Pack completed (usually within 14 days).
- Interested party views the Sale Ready Pack.
- An offer is made on the property.
- The Buyer Agreement is signed.
- The Conveyancers are instructed.
- The Sale Ready Pack is provided to your Solicitor.
- Additional enquiries are raised and answered for your intended use.
- Exchange and completion.

iamproperty.com